

RULES AGAINST SUGAR OUTFITS

Interstate Commission Says
Plea Not Sustained

Refiners Sought Change in Car Weight Minimum

Small Jobber Would Suffer
by Increase

(REUTERS DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The Interstate Commerce Commission, in an opinion made public today, held that a complaint filed by the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Corporation and others seeking greater uniformity in carload minimum weights on sugar throughout the United States without any change in rates had not been sustained. It said, however, that a suggestion made by the complainants that the minimum weight of 60,000 pounds be established was not unreasonable, provided a proper revision of rates accompanied the establishment of such a uniform weight.

SITUATION UNREASONABLE
The complainants operate sugar refineries in California and distribute their products in competition with manufacturers and distributors located elsewhere. The commission said that points to which complainants ship no lower minimum carload weight than 60,000 pounds and which their competitors, particularly the Louisiana and Atlantic seaboard refineries, have minimum weights to many points ranging from 51,000 to 49,000 pounds. The complainants asserted that the present situation was unreasonable and resulted in undue prejudice and disadvantage. They asked that all minimum weights less than 60,000 pounds be increased to that basis. The commission said the lower minimums were a distinct source of advantage to their competitors and that they had lost business on account thereof. They also contended there was no reason why the sugar trade throughout the country could not do business on a uniform reasonable minimum, and that a minimum of 60,000 pounds would be reasonable and to the interest of the producers, the consumer and the carriers.

The Louisiana Public Service Commission's decision was affirmed.

STUDENT USES EVERY HOUR

Michigan Freshman Works
Eleven Hours Nightly
To Pay Way

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Nov. 2.—Ralph Warner, aged 18, a freshman engineer at the university, is taking sixteen hours a week of college studies and working in a factory eleven hours each night to pay his way. He developed yesterday when he asked to be excused from gymnasium work, which is required of all students. He had no time for this course, Warner said. He works from 5:30 p.m. until 4:30 a.m. Four days a week he has classes at 8 a.m. and at 4 p.m.

Commission, a number of eastern and southern sugar refiners, and various trade and civic organizations representing growers and dealers in the Southwest intervened in opposition to the relief for that sugar. The interveners insisted that the rates and minimum weights are inseparable and must not be considered independently.

Small jobbers in the Southwest, the testimony showed, have insufficient capital and resources to handle shipments of 60,000 pounds of sugar. The commission said it appeared that if changing freight by car from Louisiana and Texas points to the Southwest would be nearly doubled and that such increases would enable the San Francisco interests to reach farther into the Southwest than they do now. It said whether such change in relationship would be fair and just had not been the subject of inquiry.

The record, the commission said, justified the suggestion that 60,000 pounds, limited by a visible capacity rule, was not an unreasonable minimum, and that a minimum of 60,000 pounds would be reasonable and to the interest of the producers, the consumer and the carriers.

GEN. LORD HAS DIFFICULT JOB

President Harding Pleased
With Budget Maker

Keeping Within Receipts is Task of Official

Democratic Women Have Fun With Opponents

(BY CONSTANCE DREXEL.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—President Harding told a group of newspaper correspondents that he did not half appreciate what the budget director, Gen. Herbert M. Lord, was accomplishing in making expenditures meet receipts. He added that he himself was so pleased about it that he felt like going out to buy himself a feather to stick in his hat.

Thinking of the story of women who are budget makers in the home, I went to see the budget maker of the government. He was as enthusiastic about the President as the President was about him. But Gen. Lord is equally enthusiastic about his wife, whose photograph was prominent on his desk in the Treasury Department office.

"She is my best budget helper," he replied, when I told him I thought of the women of the country were interested in Uncle Sam's attempt to make his figures meet. "The United States of America is paying its way as it goes, and to the extent of the possible, in me I will approve no estimates for government money. I will countenance no obligation of the public credit and I will permit no expenditure of Federal funds that will jeopardize this fortunate condition of things," Gen. Lord said.

"With this in mind, let me return to our arithmetic," said the general, and then he told me to put down these figures: Estimated expenditures, fiscal year 1923 (ending June 30, 1923), $2,771,258,542. Estimated ordinary receipts, $2,018,124,211. Excess of estimated expenditures over estimated receipts, $753,134,331.

There you have Uncle Sam's problem. Nearly $750,000,000 deficit (and that is not 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, THOMAS N. PAGE RITES FRIDAY

Body Will be Interred at Washington

Was Ambassador to Italy During World War

Noted for Works on Life in Southern States

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
RICHMOND (Va.) Nov. 1.—Thomas Nelson Page, former ambassador to Italy, and noted author, died of heart disease this afternoon at his ancestral home, Oakland, where he was born, near Beaver Dam in Hanover county. He was 63 years old.

Mr. Page had apparently been in excellent health and only last week had been in Washington and in Maryland where he participated in the political campaign, speaking in advocacy of the candidacy for the United States Senate of his cousin, William Cabell Bruce. He then announced that he would soon begin the preparation of a book dealing with his experiences as ambassador.

APPOINTED IN 1918
Mr. Page was appointed ambassador to Italy in June, 1918, and continued in that capacity until August, 1919, his service covering a critical period in American-European relations.

Although the services he performed as ambassador at Rome in the trying years were of great value to the government, Mr. Page was perhaps best known for his literary productions, which had won for him a name both at home and abroad long before he accepted the diplomatic appointment from President Wilson. It was in fact this literary talent which especially endeared him to the Italian people.

FAMOUS AS AUTHOR
He was the author of a number of books on southern life and as a result of his experience in Italy wrote two which won for him the special attention of that country, one being "Italy and the World War," the other, "A Life of Thomas Jefferson" in Italian.

He was twice married—in 1884 to Miss Anne Seddon Bruce, who died in 1891 and in 1893 to Mrs. Florence Lathrop Field, widow of Henry Field, of Chicago. Her death occurred last year.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at the Old Fork Church, where Mr. Page was christened, and the body will be sent to Washington for interment.

Placing of flags of all public buildings in the State at halfmast tomorrow as a mark of respect to Mr. Page was ordered tonight by Gov. Trinkle.

RETALIATORY DUTY IS LEVIED ON CEMENT

SHIPMENT FROM CANADA TO BE TAXED UNDER NEW ORDER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—An order issued today by Edward Clifford, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, provides that a duty of 5 cents per 100 pounds shall be levied on cement imported from Canada.

The order is based on a retaliatory proviso in the new tariff law. Cement is on the free list in the new law, but it is provided that if any country, dependency, province or other subdivision of government imposes a duty on such cement imported from the United States an equal duty shall be imposed upon such cement coming into the United States from that country, dependency, province or other subdivision of government.

The Canadian duty on cement is 5 cents per 100 pounds. The tariff bill as passed originally by the House imposed a duty of 5 cents per 100 pounds, but following an attack on the cement industry on the floor of the Senate the commodity was transferred to the free list, but with the retaliatory proviso attached.

WITNESS TO LINCOLN MARTYRDOM IS DEAD

MAN WHO PLAYED LIVELY PART IN EARLY DAY PASSES

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—William Hinckley Taylor, aged 75, conductor on the first Union Pacific train to reach Denver from California, and one of those present in Ford's Theater in Washington when President Lincoln was shot, died Tuesday night at Dos Palos at the home of his daughter, friends here were notified today.

Taylor was credited with having picked up the smoking revolver with which John Wilkes Booth, the actor, had shot the President, and having handed it to the authorities. His papers were a blood-stained program of Ford's Theater, which he said, was the one used by Lincoln on the night he was shot.

Taylor participated in the pursuit of Booth. Later, as a scout, he assisted in the rounding up of the famous James boys bandit gang. After moving to California he became Deputy State Insurance Commissioner under Gov. Gage.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow. Taylor is survived by a widow, Mrs. Carrie Taylor.

BERLIN'S BOURSE HAS ALL RECORDS BEATEN

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The Berlin Bourse beat all records even for those of the dollar when stock in German mining and metal plants went up 7000 percent in a few hours. This unparalleled increase was caused by the Ruhr district concerns and also in Upper Silesia. Financial papers try to explain this with the world's conference and the efficiency of the German workman, while a financial effort told the Tribune that well informed circles believe it is an impending calamity; the occupation of the Ruhr district.

CAMPAIGN COST ONLY NOMINAL

But Hundred House Members Spend $1000

Many Report no Outlays for Vote-Getting

Woman Holds Highest Record for Expenses

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Most of the candidates for the House of Representatives have reported nominal expenditures in the fight thus far to hold or capture seats. According to preliminary statements more than 100 have spent more than $1000 each in the election campaign, not counting primary expenses previously paid. The candidates—primary and election—will not be reported until within thirty days after November 7, when each candidate must show whether his expenses have exceeded $5000, the limit fixed by law.

PARTY REPORTS
Additional reports were filed today with the clerk of the House by campaign committees showing contributions since the first filing of reports. The Republican National Committee reported gifts of $19,726; the Republican Senatorial Committee, $10,000; and the Democratic National Committee, $10,484.

Preliminary reports by House candidates show that about 300 spent nothing in the general election fight. This list includes those without opposition next week, although most of these candidates had reported more or less expense in the primary. House officials familiar with Congressional habits have found that in some instances a man's principal expense is reported after the election.

"He still may keep well within the law and not tip his hand prior to the voting," an official explained. "Moreover, the biggest cost is in the last few days of the campaign and on election day."

WOMAN HIGH SPENDER
Representative Alice Robertson of Oklahoma, the only woman member of the House, was among the highest spenders, according to the preliminary reports, her total being $1846. Among contributors Miss Robertson reported one of $100, by Secretary Weeks, and $1100, by the Oklahoma National Republican Club, Inc.

No statement had been received today from Mrs. Otterbein Warren, Republican nominee in New Mexico, but it was reported on the way. Esther O'Keefe, Democratic nominee in the Thirtieth Indiana District, listed the expenditure of $65, while Mrs. Lucy Patterson, Republican nominee in the Fifth North Carolina District, reported she had spent $125.

In the seventh Minnesota, Representative Volstead, author of the Prohibition Enforcement Act, reported that he had spent nothing. O. J. Kvala, a minister, also reported the expenditure of $274.

DOROTHY DIX PEEVED AT BRITISH MANAGER

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—The professional troubles of an American actress and actor have been brought into the English courts by a suit filed by Dorothy Dix, appearing here in "The Broken Wing," to prevent her manager from billing any other person appearing in the play in as large type as given her.

Persons attending the play would never guess that it was all brought about by her leading man but this is the case. The English manager declared that Thornton Hall, who is chiefly known in the United States through screen appearances, is a better drawing card than Miss Dix, and took her name off the theater's electric sign and put up Hall's. Miss Dix, who is right here wrongs otherwise, has taken action in court.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

DO NOT BE DECEIVED

"THE LAWYERS' BILL," Number 24, at the TOP of the SIXTH COLUMN on the Official Ballot, if passed, will make YOU more liable to hire a lawyer and pay him a fee than you now are.

THE TITLE—"Regulating the Practice of Law"—is a misnomer. The bill in no manner attempts to REGULATE the practice of law by lawyers.

THE TITLE IS DECEPTIVE, because the law already prohibits anyone, not a licensed attorney, from practicing law in the courts. The Banks and Trust Companies don't want to practice law in the courts, and couldn't do it if they wanted to. Their sole "offense," in the eyes of lawyers, is the practice of giving free, and usually sound, advice to men and women in cases where a lawyer's services are not really necessary.

THE "JOKER" in the bill is that it makes it a CRIME, punishable by fine or prison, for a banker or a business man, or anyone not a lawyer, to "make a practice" of giving anyone, whether free or not, any advice in matters involving law as a lawyer might give AND CHARGE A FEE.

KEEP TO RIGHT

It means what it says.

Don't cut in front of another car at the turn!

Don't use coasters on crowded streets!

Obey this sign.

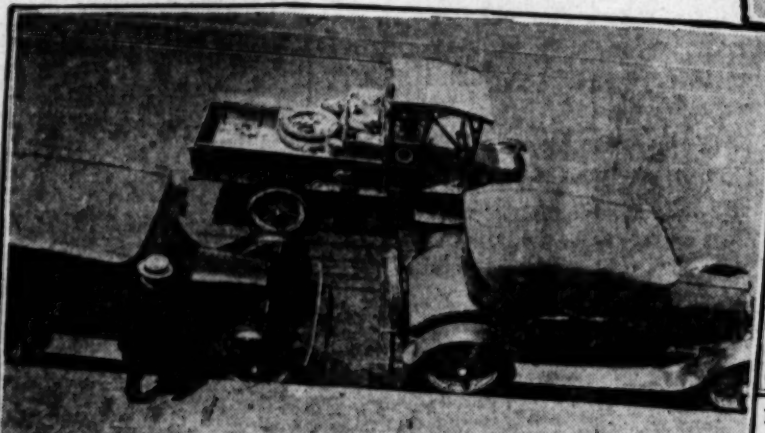

President W. L. Valentine of the Automobile Club of Southern California, through whose courtesy these pictures are used.

Don't cross behind the cars! There may be another one coming from the opposite direction.

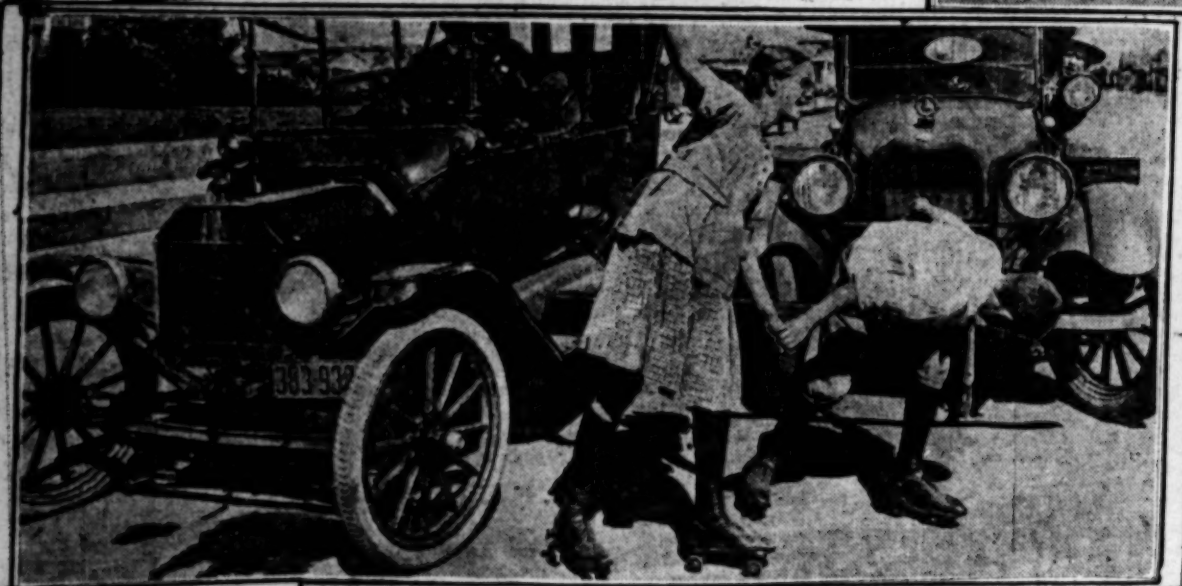

Don't splash mud on pedestrians!

Don't park double!

Don't fail to observe repair men at work!

Don't roller skate in the streets!

Don't run out from the curb without looking to left and right!

Tragedy Hovers Over Trail of Refugees

THE GREEKS ARE ANTI-ARMED. When the Turks enter Eastern Thrace they will find an utterly unoccupied, lawless and virtually unoccupied, the great bulk of the Greek military and civil population has left. The remaining are mostly Turkish or Greek.

Greeks, the Greek commandant, declares that the last Greek soldier was out of the province on November 18. The entire evacuation has been carried out without incident and there have been no cases of disorder or incendiarism. Thousands of tons of grain are being abandoned, owing to lack of transport.

DOGS STILL WATCH

The only animate things about the deserted villages now are the faithful dogs waiting patiently for their masters, who will never return. Unable to obtain food or shelter, they die while waiting the farmhouses.

The correspondent has just completed a ten days' survey of Thrace from Macedonia by automobile, the journey being made from the gates of Constantinople to the borders of the Aegean, and from the ancient ramparts of Adrianople to the black shores of the Aegean. The 140-mile stretch of human misery, cattle and vehicles, continues weary trek westward into the desolate uplands of Macedonia. The refugees have been making barefoot over the rugged, rocky roads for nineteen days. Their prepared food supplies have run out, and they are subsisting on raw cabbage and cracked corn.

The mothers and children are suffering untold misery. One hears the old cry, "Come into Macedonia help us," but there is no help from that devoted group of women identified with the Near East Relief.

KILLER WORN OUT

Thousands of miles drop by the roadside, too weak to keep up with the human caravan of misery. They are joined by horses, mules

COAL SITUATION NOT PROMISING

Season's Production Cannot Equal Demands

Northwest to be Short of Anthracite

Bituminous Prices Decline Steadily

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Pro- duction of anthracite coal this season will fall at least 40 per cent short of last year's, as a result of the strike, C. M. Spens, Federal fuel distributor, predicted as a result of a nation-wide coal sur- vey, which disclosed a serious hard- coal shortage in the Northwestern States. Bituminous production, he said, had so increased that the menace to the present prosperous industrial situation had passed. The peak of hard coal production has virtually been reached and Mr. Spens said, despite intensified operations, "this season's produc- tion cannot possibly equal the de- mand."

"Necessarily," he added, "other fuels must to some extent be sub- stituted."

LAKE PROGRAM

While the anthracite lake pro- gram, to supply domestic coal to the Northwest, calls for approx- imately 3,000,000 tons, the fuel dis- tributor said up to date only 187,000 tons have been shipped. That figure includes a small amount of all-rail movement.

In view of the normal closing of navigation on the lakes about Dec. 1, he said operators had been urged to immediately begin all-rail ship- ments. Due regard would be given to the needs of other sections he stated.

After the end of the hard-coal strike the average daily loading during the last eighteen days of September was 5007 cars. The October average was 5184 cars, as compared with 5811 in October, 1921, and 5910 in October, 1920.

In the bituminous situation, Mr. Spens said the present greatly in- creased production was permitting industrial users to accumulate some reserve stocks, the general steam-coal situation was fairly sat- isfactory, and that a domestic sup- ply was well assured in the greater part of the country.

PRICES DOWNWARD

For weeks, he said, the spot price for all grades of soft coal

Cardinal Rewards Relief Work in Austria With Prayer Stool

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 3.—Cardinal Pirl, Primate of Austria, has presented a rare prayer stool more than 800 years old, to the Knights of Columbus in recognition of the Knights' relief work for the children of Aus- tria. It was announced here today. The prayer stool was carved out of a solid piece of wood and, according to tradition, was used by Napoleon.

had steadily declined, while pro- duction had mounted. Since the creation of the office of Federal fuel distributor, bitu- minous production has increased from 9,322,000 tons for the week ending September 30, to 10,500,000 tons for the week ending October 22. Due to that increase, Mr. Spens said he believed the Northwest could be supplied with the 3,000,000 additional tons needed before the closing of the lakes.

In the matter of bituminous coal, he said for the week end- ing September 30, the average spot price of all grades was $5.06 a ton. That price has steadily declined to $4.35 for the week ending Octo- ber 21.

TWO WORKERS DIE IN SLIDES OF ROCK

FREBINO, Nov. 3.—Crushed un- der huge rock slides, one man was instantly killed and another is dead after three days' suffering in Sierra Nevada camps of the Southern Cal- ifornia Edison Company, according to Coroner John N. Lisle, who re- turned last night after holding the inquest. The dead are: Louis Knutsen, 31 years old, construction foreman, and J. Elder, 31 years old, construction employee. Elder resumed work late Tues- day evening at Camp 33 after a charge of dynamite had blasted rock and dirt loose. As he bent over to pick up his tools 1000 pounds of rock dropped upon him, killing him instantly, according to Coroner Lisle's findings. Knutsen while employed in Camp 31, thirty- five miles from Camp 33, met death in similar manner.

GEORGES TO RUN GAMES IN RUSSIA

Pugilist and Former Suitor of Peggy Joyce on Way to Open Casino

PARIS, Nov. 3.—Henry LeTeller and Georges Carpentier are en route to Moscow to negotiate a gambling concession in Russia with the Soviets. The couple are due in Riga, where they expect per- mits to proceed, as M. Letellier al- ready has been corresponding with the Bolsheviks concerning a con- cession which provides for using the Czar's palaces as gambling halls. Only cold rubles and En- glish and French money will be accepted in the gambling, paper rubles being barred.

M. Letellier, publisher of the Journal, and erstwhile admirer of Peggy Joyce, owns a string of racetracks. He is a shareholder of Cannes, Deauville and Biarritz gambling casinos. Last year he visited Prague and almost com- pleted a gambling concession in Czechoslovakia—Barrhead and Karabud—but popular outcry caused the government to cancel it.

VALLEY STEPS

OUT OF MIRE

Hard Luck Days of Ranchers

Fading Away

Imperial Farms Under Spell

of New Era

Soil Fertilization Subject of Interest

EL CENTRO, Nov. 2.—New development in Imperial Valley in the way of increased capital facilities, loan extensions, more time on mortgages to mortgagees by the various mortgage and loan companies, has set the valley residents, especially the farmer and rancher, on a firm basis of operation that spells success.

This is a result of the increased agitation for more alfalfa and hay crops which has caused far-sighted bankers and money loaning companies to secure themselves in a crisis in a novel and commendable way.

It was pointed out some time ago by business leaders of the valley that the farmer and rancher were up against it, with the hard luck and heavy mortgages hanging over their heads.

Not only was the farmer up against it, but the loan companies and mortgagees were also facing loss through foreclosures that loomed certain unless drastic steps were taken.

These followed a series of conferences and meetings for a plan to remedy the situation and save the property of the valley, which now seemed assured with bankers and business experts advocating the new plan.

It was considered better to have a farmer than to have a bankrupt financially by giving him more time to pay his mortgage and by advancing him more money to get him on his feet and start him making money than to foreclose on his property and perhaps take a loss on the mortgage by the sale of the farm and stock.

Various banks and loan companies have millions of dollars out on loan here in the valley. By advancing a few more dollars they will put the farmer on the road to recovery under proper supervision of the expenditure of these dollars and the same companies will get their money back with interest.

With business leaders feeling that this is practically assured to farmers, the valley, another project is looming that goes hand in hand with the new plan. This is the reforestation of the soil under condition of the valley.

The plan is to have the valley under way, which in many instances has been allowed to run down through the ignorance of the farmer of fertilization and the transient farmer speculating in perishable crops and caring nothing for the land other than to make his little pile of money and get out.

Few people realize the importance of the work being carried on quietly in the past month by committees appointed to "save the valley" from ruin.

FERTILIZATION URGED

Through careful investigation the soil fertilization committee has discovered the exact cause of the poor condition of the valley and also discovered the remedy. Systemized rotation of crops and the growing of legumes and cover crops along with alfalfa and intense cultivation, is now planned to bring the production of the valley to unheard-of proportions and at the same time keep the land fertile.

This body of men has been in the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the valley and made a permanent committee to assist the farmer in every way in fertilizing his land and carry out a campaign of education and to bring the importance of its plan before the entire community of the valley as well as the farmer.

In this connection one especially interesting feature was brought out at a recent meeting of the associated chambers of the valley. It was stated that of the thirty-five cantaloupe growers on a big scale in the valley, seven received checks of profit and of the seven only two received checks making their profit of their work while the rest of it had been discovered that the same two men were the only two out of the thirty-five who had adopted the system of fertilization by the growing of legume cover crops.

COW TESTING

The adoption of the cow-testing association in connection with the admission that dairying is the fundamental industry in the valley is considered an important event in the history of the land. Already 1250 cows have been entered in the association and it is expected that the next month will see the number raised to 2000.

FROM CONSTANTINOPLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Seventy-three young men, surrounded by enough fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers, aunts and cousins to make the crowd 3000, stood on Pier 22, Pacific street, Brooklyn, with photographs in their hands awaiting the docking of the steamship King Alexander.

On the King Alexander, from Constantinople, were seventy-three Syrian young men with photographs in their hands. They had come, along with more than 1600 Syrian passengers, to be married as quickly as possible to the seventy-three bachelors on the pier. The ladies had never seen the gentlemen and the gentlemen had never seen the ladies. The had won each other with letters and photographs.

DEPUTY EXONERATED

PRESIDENT (ARIZ.) Nov. 2.—Deputy Sheriff Hudgens was exonerated by the coroner's jury in investigating the death of Mike Sanchez, who was shot and killed by Haren. According to testimony at the inquest, Sanchez made two attempts to shoot the deputy, but his weapon missed fire both times. Hudgens then shot Sanchez through the chest. Sanchez was a sheep camp foreman.

face his declaration of love for Alberta Meadows. But it was during her telling of the hammer story that an unpleasant specter of the murder case stalked boldly into the dismal courtroom. It could not be seen. It was only heard—and for a moment it was thought that Clara would crumple and fall from the witness chair.

She sat Peggy weep in the 5 and 10-cent store. She saw the hammer and, turning to Clara, remarked:

"Do you know why I bought this?"

"Rap-rap-rap!"

They were the sound of hammer blows, resounding through the courtroom. Clara gasped, halted in the telling of her story.

"Rap-rap-rap!"

Hammer blows again. They were somewhere in the courtroom, loud and distinctive. They seemed to be pounding everywhere, on the floor, on the ceiling, on the walls, on the benches, and the nearby passed from the scene in the motions store.

But it was before these ghostly sounds of a hammer knock-knock-knock in the courtroom that Clara first showed any signs of emotion.

FOLLOWED HUSBAND

She had followed her husband to the home of Mrs. McElroy, the "peep" in the murder play.

"I had an idea he was going to Mrs. McElroy's for something."

"I knew he was untrue and something was wrong somewhere."

She heard the guard between her husband and Mrs. McElroy. She was hiding behind a door and she saw her husband tell the "peep."

"I saw him go in," she said. "I saw him go in."

attributed to a lack of education. For Clara Weaver testified that brother Henry had only attended school three months in thirty years.

The asserted spasms of Clara Phillips, of which Clara Weaver testified, by this action, she testified to show, were not due to an abnormal mind, but were caused by drink and liquor.

"I never saw Clara take a drink in her life," the witness barked at Mr. Barker.

"Did you ever know her to take a drink?"

"I most certainly did not!" Clara's sister retorted.

"You are sure she had not been drinking at the time she tried to climb up the wall?"

"She was not!"

"Was that exhibition a matter of joking with her family?"

"Good heavens—no!"

"Did Clara ever play the game of hide-and-seek?"

"I just don't remember. Maybe she did."

CLARA WOULD GRIEVE

Dep. Dist. Atty. Burke also learned from Clara Weaver that after each of Clara's asserted insane outbreaks she would grieve for long times.

Clara Phillips displayed no signs of grief or remorse during the days following the murder of Alberta Meadows and her sister.

Then the prosecutor questioned Clara Weaver of the accusation made by Mr. Phillips that his wife had spent a night with another man at Camp Bledy.

"Your father hit me with a belt," Mr. Barker asked her. "He had an insane temper," was her reply.

"Would you say I was insane if my dog attempted to kiss me?" she asked.

"If you did other things like my father had done, certainly you would be insane."

CLARA TELLS HER VERSION

She said, "Well, you know where I live. Come over and meet me. I will go with you." And I said, "No, you meet me up town."

MURDER GOSPEL

Tales That Precipitated Hammer Killing Told
Witness Stand in Phillips Trial

The tongue of gossip—which spun the tales that precipitated the murder of Alberta Meadows—was through the trial of Clara Weaver.

To Mrs. Julia McElroy had been accredited the authorship of the report concerning the intimate relations of Alberta and Clara's husband, and of spreading the story that Clara had spent the night at Camp Bledy with another man.

Mrs. McElroy denied she had spread such reports.

Phillips told of Phillips coming to her home on the Saturday preceding the murder. He was looking for the man who he had seen at the house of Clara Meadows; that he and Alberta were going to leave the house and did not go.

QUARREL RESULTS

Phillips and Mrs. McElroy quarreled. He said Alberta had told him she had been with Clara Meadows; that he and Alberta were going to leave the house and did not go.

Then Clara stepped into the room. She had been hiding behind a door and listening.

"That was said in her presence," Mrs. McElroy denied she had said it.

"I told him plain words what I thought of him," said Mrs. McElroy. "I told him to take his wife and go."

Minnesota and Wisconsin Play Tomorrow

Big Ten Grid Clash Should be a Corker

Michigan Up to Date Has Not Been Scored On

DISCUSSIVE DISPATCH.
ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Nov. 2.—The list of contenders for the Big Ten grid title will be sliced Saturday when Minnesota and Wisconsin single at Minneapolis. To date neither team has been defeated, and comparative scores indicate that the squads are evenly matched, both having subdued Indiana by the same margin. If the much-abused dope sheet can be relied on to furnish the facts in this case neither Minnesota nor Wisconsin can claim a team of championship caliber. Northwest, on the other hand, is a victim to Chicago's second-string men, having held the Ophers to a 7-to-7 tie recently. However, the fact that Minnesota whitewashed Ohio State last week lends many to predict big things for the Ophers' variety. One fact is evident—the much-tested Ohio always is hopelessly out of the running for the Big Ten glory.

AT URBANA.
The only other conference game this week is Northwestern's affair with Illinois at Urbana. As both squads have yet to win a game, the result of their conflict won't figure much in determining the championship. Esposito's starting line will be almost trimming the powerful Iowa eleven, were pushed into the discard here last week by Michigan, and their only hope now is to keep as far from the bottom as possible. Although Michigan was able to mangle Illinois minus the assist-

Northwestern at Illinois.
Indiana at Notre Dame (non-conference).
Michigan at Michigan (non-conference).

NOT SCORED ON
Michigan has not been scored on to date, due to a large extent to perfect ends and stellar secondary defense. Saturday Test sends his men against the Michigan Aggies in a tussle he hopes will put his men on edge for their important game with Wisconsin the week following.

ORANGE-SANTA ANA CLASH TOMORROW
Orange and Santa Ana football teams will clash tomorrow on Santa Ana gridiron. This year the Orange High has won practice games from Chaffey and Riverside and league contests from Huntington, Tustin and Anaheim, and has not lost a game. Tomorrow's game will not likely produce a winner of the Orange County League, as both teams have been going strong and both are undefeated.

TO TAKE A DAY OFF TOMORROW

Northwest Conference Grid Lads Get Respite

Cougars, However, Take on Chesty Bears

California and Multnomah Are Tough Babies

DISCUSSIVE DISPATCH.
PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 2.—Conference football in the Pacific Northwest will take a day off next Saturday, Oregon, Washington and Idaho are resting, but it will be far from a day of rest for Washington State and the Oregon Aggies. The Cougars are journeying to Berkeley to meet California and O.A.C. is due to clash with Multnomah Club in Portland. California and Multnomah are about the toughest assignments that can be drawn in the West.

Both of the two former schools seem to be up against almost certain defeat. Last year the Northwest pinned her hopes in Washington State and though they didn't do it they made a valiant effort. This year their prospects are more dim. The Bears are being led by a team that has been defeated by Bagshaw's Vikings, and the Bears ought to give it an even sounder trouncing unless all signs fail. It must be remembered, though, that the Cougars have an uneasy way of springing surprise and football is a game of surprises.

STRONG TEAM
This game at least will give an assist on the relative strength of northern and southern football this year. Washington State is just about as strong a team as the North could select to represent it. True, it lost to Washington, but it was one of those big-rag affairs that either side might have won. Of Oregon, Washington and Washington State it is a toss-up which team is the strongest. The Oregon Aggies are rated by close observers as a trifle weaker than the other three.

At any rate the Aggie's chances against Multnomah are pretty slim. The club team, which had no trouble in defeating Oregon, should take the Aggies down the line quite handily. The Aggies are somewhat battered and several of the best men may be out of the line-up, whereas Ted Faulstich's players are in wonderful condition for a club team.

TO HELP BACKS
Coach Huntington and Trainer Hayward are introducing a few innovations at Oregon this year. One of them is a mechanical device to help the backs in line plunging. Bill Hayward designed it and it seems to fill a real need.

A back may be ever so good a plunger, but he has to be trained to hit an opening in the line accurately when there is one, reasoned by when there is one, reasoned by

STATZ AND HANEY BARRED

DISCUSSIVE DISPATCH.
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Arnold Statz, outfielder with the Chicago Nationals, and Fred Hanev, third baseman with the Detroit Americans, will not be allowed to play winter baseball on the Pacific Coast. Commissioner Landis ruled today, major leaguers have a right to participate in exhibition games after the close of the season until November 1. After that the modified rules of the big leagues prohibit it.

A Female Bob Meusel

Hayward, as he built a "hole" for the backs to hit in practice. It consists of canvas strips about five feet long and eighteen inches apart, with wooden handles at the ends. With men holding the handles the backs are trained in diving for the hole. It can be fixed at just the height the coach wants them to dive into the line. At first the backs rammed into the side strips or got caught on the upper strip, but practice has taught them to use unerring accuracy. "Bring out the hole," is Huntington's command each evening when he gets ready to put his runners through their paces.

NOT CERTAIN
Even though California becomes the undisputed champion of the Pacific Coast it is not absolutely certain that the Bears will be selected as the team to meet Penn State at Pasadena on New Year's Day, according to Dr. U. G. Duback, of Oregon Agricultural College, president of the conference.

"Penn State was invited to play a representative Pacific Coast team," said Dr. Duback. "Nothing was said about meeting the champion team. What it will be is a game between a representative eastern eleven and a representative Pacific Coast eleven, either of which may or may not be the champion of its section." That statement by Duback was made soon after the invitation to Penn State was announced. Since then there has been considerable speculation on it hereabouts. The general opinion is that California will be selected, or if not California, then the Trojans will be given a chance. Unless some one of the northern teams develops much stronger than any one of the southern now, it is felt unlikely that an Oregon or Washington eleven will draw the honor.

TOURNEY ON AT ANGELES

Nearly three times as many entries for the first annual fall handicap golf tournament at the Angeles Vista golf course have been received as were expected, according to the officials of the club.

The popularity of the course has been proven during the summer months by the fact that the attendance has grown when, according to the natural order of things, the heat should have cut down the number of players. As a result of this growth, the first tournament at Angeles this year, several blind bogies were held in the late summer and early last month, and from these, the handicaps of the players were computed. No entries will be received after Saturday morning, as the first round of the tournament is scheduled to start at that time.

Players will go to the qualifying round Saturday at scratch, and all other rounds will be made a handicap. Prizes will consist of a number of silver trophies for the winner and the runners-up.

Swimmers to Play Polo at Bimini Baths

Coach Steve Brown of the Bimini Swimming Club has lined up a double-header attraction for Friday night, when the Y.M.C.A. water polo team meets the strong Bimini club at the Bimini Hot Springs. After the water polo game a joint swimming and diving exhibition will be given by the Bimini club, the newly organized Ambassador club and the Y.M.C.A. These three clubs are the strongest in the district and a high-grade exhibition is promised.

One of the features of the evening will be the first public appearance of Miss Bonnie Mayle of the Bimini club, whose rapid development as a fancy diver has been one of the sensations of the season. The first event will be called a "clock" and no admission will be charged.

TILDEN'S FINGER IS IMPROVING NICELY

DISCUSSIVE DISPATCH.

PREP GRIDDERS TO SHOW STUFF

Barlett, and the off tackle smashing of Maurice are reasons why the mechanics are made the favorites. Twichell's long-distance punting and the deadly tackling of Burman are a few other mechanic hopes.

Franklin appears the favorite over Hollywood, but Coach Call's eleven has improved wonderfully since its 22-0 defeat by Poly and may upset the dope. The Kite-flyer's main forte is the punting and all around good work of Bob Lee, Bud Teachout and Mike Godett, Daugherty's ends, know their stuff and work together as well as any set of wingmen in the league.

The Foothill line, which was the weak spot of the Hollywood team in early season matches, has recently developed an abundance of strength and will bear watching today.

EVENLY MATCHED
The Manual-Lincoln battle looks to be very evenly matched, although Ed Foster has built up an aerial attack around Bobby Bond that will in all probability give Tommy Davis's side a good deal of trouble. The Trojans have a screened pass that brought a touchdown both times it was tried against Pasadena last Monday. Watson at guard and McGeary at tackle are the best bet on the Ar-tisan line.

Jimmy McCue, Pete Thompson and Red Haasner, halfback, are expected to turn the tide in favor of Lincoln, according to the Emancipator rosters. Haasner, especially, has loomed up exceedingly well in games so far. The Long Beach Jackrabbits are expected by many to take a heavy victory over the L. A. High Pioneers Saturday. The powerful attack of Morley Drury and the Hill brothers is expected to spike the L. A. guns early in the struggle. However, the Pioneers may surprise with a forward-passing attack.

FOUR MAIN EVENTS AT HOLLYWOOD

All-Star Bouts Will Feature Boxing Program Tonight in Legion Ring

Patrons of the American Legion Hollywood arena will be given a rare treat tonight when four sets of main events climb through the ropes and engage in fierce doings. Sailor Kramer and Sailor Walters, 125-pounders, will appear in the windup. Kramer has recently returned from Australia where he created a sensation in the rings. In Walters he meets one of the toughest ringmen ever seen in action here.

Little George Marks, the banty ring 125-pounder, also had one more don the mitta with Teddy Silva, the only serious contender for his crown. These speedy bouts will hook up in the semi-windup.

Willie Hunefeld, a great favorite here who has been doing big time in the Antipodes, will appear at Hollywood after a long absence against Charley Roberts, a 135-pounder of note. Charley is expected to give Willie all he can handle in the fifth bout of the evening.

Last but not least of the feature attractions is the Sailor Ritter versus Hachette Roberts mill at 135 pounds. Both men are sluggers and the bout should be a hurricanous affair.

CHAMPION SCULLER GIVES HIS REASON

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

DULUTH (Minn.) Nov. 2.—Walter Hoover, world's champion sculler, in a statement to the Associated Press today explained his failure to appear for the main event of the aquatic sports program—a race with Granville Gude of Washington, D. C.—at the American Legion national convention at New Orleans last month.

The game was called at the end of the first five minutes of the fourth quarter on account of darkness. Both teams were fine on the offensive, but when it came to defending, they were obviously "not so good." Logo, Manual Arts halfback, started for the Artisans in the kicking department by dropping several tries directly between the posts, one of which came from the 40-yard line. Buchtel started in carrying the ball.

MANAGER MILLER GIVEN A RECEPTION

DISCUSSIVE DISPATCH.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Jack Miller, who guided the San Francisco Seals to the Pacific Coast Baseball League pennant this year, his first year as manager, was given a big reception when he reached his home town of Kearny, N. J., last week, according to word received here. Prominent citizens, led by the town board, met Miller at the railroad station and later he was presented with a $2000 automobile. Miller returns to San Francisco as manager next season.

BEAR TEAM IS STILL WONDER

California Bunch is Better Than Last Year

Blue and Gold Fan Enters Big Protest

Penn Will Face Tough Gang in Bruins

Did U.S.C. lose the big game or did the Bears win it? This question has been in the minds of many people since the day of the battle. Some think that the Trojans were the victims of circumstance and received the small ends of the breaks. Others say the California was off form, not snappy, wanted to save themselves and all the rest of the bunk and hokum that goes with every football game. One thing that all will admit and that is the game was a bore-out. The following is a letter from a son of the Bears, who wants to take a crack at putting the south side to the exact condition of the California team.

"It is perhaps a presumption on my part, to take up any of your time, but if that is so, I crave your forgiveness.

The late struggle between the Trojans and the Bears, and it is getting kind of late to discuss it, still leaves in the minds of our rabid Bear followers a feeling that somehow we are misjudged by our southern neighbors and I would like all the rest of the nuts who write to the papers, like to express to you a suggestion or two in regard to your own opinion of the present Bear variety.

"Being a fan like Brick Morra, who saw the first California-Stanford football game a good many years back, and as many games as I can crowd into since that time, I am sure that the Bears have been far off as to make it sound foolish.

"First I think you are wrong about the California team not being as great a team as the 1920 team. "Second I think you fellows have all jumped at conclusions based on seeing the team in action in one game.

"To my mind the California team of this year is as good a team as the 1920 team, and has everything the 1920 team had plus a roundwork in coaching that is more finished than that team had. The Trojans played the wonderful game and I am not attempting to detract from their game nor Henderson's splendid defense against the California plays, but nevertheless California was off her game, any follower of the game who saw the Bears in action against the Olympic team and the game Saturday will tell you that it is true. The team took hard but they lacked snap, their play was at times as that of a team gone stale and it was just their wonderful ability to take advantage of breaks that saved them.

"I believe that happened to them, what happens to many teams, they were brought up to a high tension for the Olympic game and when they came to their own minds the Trojans were to be easy picking, when they met with opposition they couldn't whip back into form and they appeared like a team that had lost all desire for the game they were playing.

"The California team of last year had a similar experience with W. and J. You will remember the howl that went up when W. and J. was selected. The opinion out here was that California would have no little opposition that the game would be a joke. Anyone who saw the team before the game would realize that they were about as well headed as any young set of players could be, and they played just about the same class of game against W. and J. as California is selected to play they did against the Trojans. If you saw the game you would know that they were as good as the '30 team because they went into the game knowing they have a chance of a licking they sure can play the game."

Riverside All Ready to Take on Redlands

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 2.—Whether Riverside Polytechnic High School will remain in the race for the championship of the Citrus Belt League will depend upon the result of the contest with Redlands High School, with which the former school is now tied for second place, to be played off on the local grid here today. The standings of the Citrus Belt League to date are as follows:

CARDS INDULGE IN SECRET PRACTICE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Nov. 2.—Secret practice is being held this week by the Stanford University football team in preparation for its game here next Saturday against the fast University of Nevada eleven.

Couch Andy Kerr, it is believed, is trying to develop the Cardinal offensive to a point where it will play with a "punch" throughout the entire game. In early games this year Stanford developed the reputation of being a "ten-minute" team, for after the first quarter its offense generally weakened. On defense the team has been strong.

SANTA FE MEETS "TRUCK DEAL" AGAIN SNAGGED

Council and Railroad Get Together
Concessions Are Offered to Gain Franchise
Injunction Will be Sought, City Hall Hears

Extension to Harbor Now Seems Probable

Progress was made yesterday afternoon toward the granting by the City Council of a franchise to the Santa Fe to build a line from El Segundo to the ocean at Los Angeles Harbor, thus extending its trans-continental road to the ocean. It was predicted that the franchise will be granted within two weeks on terms that will protect the city the same time work no injustice on the company.

"GET TOGETHER." The City Council's session which was attended by Santa Fe officials and representatives of the Municipal League and other organizations, was essentially a "get-together" meeting. In this spirit the railroad offered to make valuable concessions in an effort to meet the councilmen's desire to have the rights of the city protected in the franchise.

Councilman Wheeler said during the discussion, "The Santa Fe has today at this meeting shown a spirit of desiring to cooperate with the city, and I believe that we have made real progress." After Attorney M. J. C. Clapp, representing the Santa Fe, had stated the concessions that the road would be willing to make, Councilman Wheeler moved, and his motion was adopted, that the utilities committee withdraw its report recommending that the present application of the Santa Fe be denied. Councilman Sanborn, chairman of the utilities committee, agreed to the motion. Two weeks were then given the committee to submit a new report. In the meantime the committee of the Santa Fe will send the committee a statement by the road, in writing setting forth the concessions that it will make.

The company agrees to eliminate day switching along its present right-of-way in the city along Slauson avenue which will be used by Harbor-bound traffic. This arrangement to do all switching of cars at night will eliminate 90 per cent of the car movements along Slauson avenue, officials of the road said.

The company agrees to shorten its Wilmington street trackage one-half in order to avoid crossing Wilmington boulevard at grade, a separation of grades being impossible, because of engineering difficulties, at this point. The company has already purchased $50,000 worth of land for a right-of-way on the part of the line to be eliminated, but this concession is made because of the City Council's objection to the creation of new grade crossings.

In case of new streets and roads crossing the Harbor extension, the company agrees to a separation of grades at these new intersections. Should the traffic along the present right-of-way on Slauson avenue increase to a point where conditions at the existing grade crossings become dangerous, the company agrees not to oppose any order from the Railroad Commission ordering a separation of grades or to the division of costs for these separations fixed by the commission.

REPORT EXPECTED

Upon receipt of a statement from the railroad asking that these conditions be incorporated in the franchise, it is expected that the Utilities Committee will make a report recommending the granting of the application, the franchise will once be prepared by the City Attorney and adopted by the City Council. The State Railroad Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission are both prepared then to grant the necessary authority to the road for the extension and construction work can begin.

The extension will cost the railroad more than $1,000,000 and the actual new line to be built will be about twelve and one-half miles in length.

Officials of the Santa Fe present at yesterday's meeting included General Manager J. L. Hibbard, Right-of-Way Agent J. R. Hayden, Engineer J. W. Baumgartner and Attorney Reed.

Woman Asserts Girl Believed Bootleg Queen

Baiting a trap with an order for fifty gallons of moonshine, yesterday arrested four men, a girl whom they assert is the leader of the bootleggers' band, and confiscated two automobiles in which the stuff was being delivered.

The girl, Helen Ross, who first insisted her name was Beesie Johnson, is 19 years old. She was dressed in male attire when taken into custody. The men arrested are Earl L. Moser, alias Albert Richards, alias "Whiskey," who has a police record in several Pacific Coast cities, J. A. Mayhew, Harry Ross and Thomas J. Williams.

The prohibition officer made arrangements to accept the whiskey on West Pico street. Miss Ross, with her boy's cap at a rakish angle, drove up and gave the "O. K." signal with an electric torch. A second machine heading the men and ten five-gallon jugs approached in answer to the signal.

The four men and girl were booked at the County Jail on charges of conspiracy to violate the liquor laws and bond was set at $1000 each. Miss Ross's home at 551 East Jefferson was searched but no liquor was found. She was permitted to don her own clothes before being locked up.

MAYOR'S VETO SUSTAINED

Mayor Cryer yesterday won his battle against the invasion of Bronson avenue at Tenth street by business establishments, when the City Council sustained the Mayor's veto of an ordinance, previously adopted by the Council, changing the zoning laws so as to permit business structures in the Bronson-avenue section.

There's a difference in Shortening—Therefore

THE use of any one of the shortenings shown above will have little effect on the outside of a loaf of bread.

But shortening has a great deal to do with the quality of bread, as well as with its color and texture—and price.

In [HOLSUM Bread the price of shortening is secondary; first comes the desire to produce a light, appetizing loaf of highest food value. In ordinary bread a cheaper shortening must be made to "do."

The slightly increased cost of this shortening will be recognized and appreciated by those who demand bread of high quality.

DESERTION .. WINS .. WIFE .. DECREE
Husband Liked Other Girls Better, Judge Told

Mrs. Helen I. Gorham

DESERTION and failure to provide for their minor son, won Mrs. Helen I. Gorham a divorce from Norton Q. Gorham in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday.

His desertion of her was based by Mrs. Gorham on the fact that Mr. Gorham did not care for the responsibilities of married life. According to her, he found pleasure in the society of other girls.

"I know," she said, "because I have observed him with girls."

But for this purported peasant good and well that I was a weakling, and she good and well that if it was her she would not let Albert get away with it. She said, "Make her tell you the truth about it," she said, "right here." "You have got to tell Clara the truth, Albert," she said.

"What told you all this stuff?" I said. "Mrs. McElroy told me."

And she said, "Mrs. McElroy told you these things?" I said, "Yes, she said, 'Well, she is mighty dirty.'"

She said, "Mrs. McElroy is mighty dirty."

I said, "Why, is it true, or not?" she said, "Yes. If you want to know the truth about it, if she has told you, I might as well own up to you and tell you the truth about it, that it was true."

And I said, "Albert, is it possible?" I said, "What you and Mr. Phillips have been going together?" And she said, "Yes, it is." There the witness went.

WOULD NOT GIVE UP
She said, "Well, you can say what you please, but Mr. Phillips loves me and I love him, and," she said, "yes, we are going away together." She said, "Mr. Phillips does not care for you, Mr. Phillips, and you may as well know it now as any other time."

I said, "Albert, I never could have believed it. I was trying to find out if it was true."

She said, "Well, yes, it is true. We are going away together." She said, "I have money; I have bought a new trunk; she said, 'I have bought a handbag, and we are going away together.'"

I said, "Albert, you are the dirtiest woman on earth." I said, "Any woman that would come in between a man and his wife as you have Mr. Phillips and me," I said, "I can hardly believe it."

I said, "You are dirty, Albert; you are just dirty in your heart."

I said, "You have no heart."

She said, "I have as much heart as you."

I said, "No, you have not."

I said, "You are as dirty as a dog, Albert."

And when I told her she was as dirty as a dog, Albert said, "No," she said, "I am nothing like as dirty."

She said, "I love Mr. Phillips."

And she struck me, and we got to fighting, and we fought and we fought, and we were just simply fighting there, and I was just really and truly in such a condition that I had no strength, it seemed—just seemed as though my whole life had been taken out of me.

We were fighting; I was fighting with her and she was fighting with me; we were both fighting; we were fighting there together, that I had no strength, it seemed—just seemed as though my whole life had been taken out of me.

She just simply had the best of me, and she had my little finger—she was pounding me, and oh, she was breaking me in two; she was trying to break my little finger, it seemed.

She had it bent double, I who had successfully made the voyage. They were in a weakened condition because of the close confinement and lack of exercise but will be as well as ever in a few days, according to the experts who have had the big beasts under their care since leaving India. They were taken from the hold of the vessel yesterday by means of wide canvas straps swung around their bodies. They were thus lifted by the steam windlasses to the dock, where they waddled off to the waiting freight cars. As the ropes tightened and they were swung clear of the lower deck they let forth cries that could be heard for blocks. Despite their size, when the unusual happens elephants are rated as among the most timid of animals.

GREAT CATS SCREAM
Cage after cage of tigers lined one side of the lower deck of the boat. Beside them were boxes filled with pythons, cobras and other large snakes, more than fifty in all, some measuring more than thirty feet in length. Hundreds of monkeys and apes, jammed in the wooden cages and mixed their cries with the fierce growls of the tigers. Leopards and civet cats.

Four thousand birds took up another side of the temporary rot. Among them were hundreds of gayly colored finches, many shama through, the color of India, and parrots of varied hues, which added color to the picture. Fly catchers and crown pigeons were among the unusual specimens that will fill aviaries in many parts of the country.

Mrs. Buck, who has accompanied her husband on several trips to the jungle, made the voyage with the animals and assisted in their care. Lal Bahadur, a Malay boy, employed by Mr. Buck, was in charge of the cages.

ORDERS WAITING
Mr. and Mrs. Buck left San Francisco last June and have been traveling constantly since that time. They will return to the East for more specimens as soon as the present consignment is disposed of. They have an order for a pair of rhinoceros which they were unable to procure on this trip because of flood in the interior of India, and will include the big animals in their next cargo.

On the trip across they were marauding and ran short of food for many of the animals, forcing them to feed short rations. Only a few of the animals died for this reason, many of them being taken ill and were disposed of by being thrown into the sea. One of the great snakes became almost frozen during the cold weather encountered off the coast of Japan and was kept alive by being wrapped about a steam pipe. A hyena cub was saved from being a cripple by having its fore legs placed in a plaster cast. Lack of exercise was causing the animal to gradually lose the use of their members.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck and their party suffered no ill effects from their long stay in the jungle as it is possible to adjust their business matters in this country.

VETERANS TO OPEN HUT SOON
Handiwork of Disabled Will be Placed on Sale Saturday

Disabled veterans of the World War will have an opportunity to put their vocational training to profitable use with the opening of the California 10-24 South Figueroa street, on the 4th inst.

Gifts, toys and novelties made by the veterans will be on sale at the hut. Workrooms have been provided in which the men may receive skilled instruction, and in which they may put the trade they have learned to use.

1500 disabled men and women will be benefited by the hut, which has undertaken the dissemination of veteran-made articles to the public.

Saturday will be the day of the official house warming, which will last until late in the evening. A musical program will be given, and public inspection of the hut and its activities is invited. Thereafter the hut will be open to the public every week day. Afternoon tea will be served for shoppers, and clubs and societies may avail themselves of the rooms.

A recent appeal for "raw materials" in the shape of tin cans, sheet metal and clock springs has received a splendid response.

BADLY BURNED BY LIVE WIRE
Coming in contact with a high voltage electric wire while working on a building under construction at Cabanero avenue and Santa Monica Boulevard, Lester S. Spaulding, aged 23 years, of 809 1/2 East Thirtieth street, was perhaps fatally burned, yesterday. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found he was suffering from first and second degree burns over his entire body. He was later removed to the Golden State Hospital in a critical condition.

Spaulding, according to the police, is employed as a painter by the American Sanitary Air Brush Company.

LECTURE GIVEN ON PLAYGROUND GAMES
The first of a series of lectures was given last evening on "Social Recreation" by Miss Edna Gelster, author and teacher, before an audience of playground directors, teachers in physical training, and leaders in various recreational fields, at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium.

Miss Gelster, who has written many books on games and outdoor pastimes, gave a demonstration of several games in which the persons at the meeting took an active part. The next lecture will be given next Thursday evening in the local auditorium, 941 South Figueroa street.

Southland Society Meeting Draws Thousand
Eminent Specialists Arrive to Give Lectures
Five Sessions Thrown Open to All Interested

An average attendance of more than a thousand at each of the five sessions of the sixty-seventh regular semiannual meeting of the Southern California Medical Society to be held today and tomorrow at the Knights of Columbus' Flower-street auditorium is the prediction of Dr. William Duffield, Los Angeles physician and president of the organization.

The society's membership of more than 500 physicians and surgeons is expected to turn out practically en masse tonight to hear Dr. C. Rosow, professor of bacteriology in the graduate school of the University of Minnesota, and Mayo Foundation, discuss certain important bacteriological studies in conjunction with diseases of the nervous system.

With "Factors in the Continued Development of the Physicians" as his topic Dr. Louis Wilson, dean of the graduate school at the University of Minnesota and member of the national examining board as well as of the national committee for graduate medical education, will talk tomorrow night on the needs of the medical profession in its relation to the public and the problems in the medical education in their relation to the university and the public.

The meetings, though entirely scientific, have been thrown open to all individuals interested in scientific medicine and numbers of health workers, veterinarians and pharmacists are expected to attend.

A paper by Dr. Walter A. Paves of San Francisco, summarizing the results of his pressure studies on 14,000 high school and university students, and an important surgical paper by Dr. Walter Baldwin, also of the East Coast, are other topics expected to prove of general interest.

Meetings will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon and at 8 o'clock tonight. Tomorrow's program will consist of sessions commencing at 9 o'clock in the morning, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening when Doctor Wilson will be heard.

The officers of the society are: William Duffield, M.D., of Los Angeles, president; Robert Pollock, M.D., of San Diego, and H. W. Johnston, M.D., of Santa Ana, vice-presidents and Egerton Crispin, M.D., of Los Angeles, secretary and treasurer.

SHRINERS' CHRISTMAS PLANS MADE
Charity Ball is Arranged for Thanksgiving Eve at Ambassador

Following their usual custom members of Al Malakiah Temple, Order of the Mystic Shrine, are completing arrangements to provide Christmas cheer for the city's poor. The first event announced in their effort to raise funds to carry on the Christmas work is a charity ball scheduled for the Ambassador Hotel Thanksgiving Eve.

Motley H. Fink, chairman of the Shrine Christmas relief committee, has mailed a large number of tickets for the ball to Shrine members asking that each Shriner buy five of them at $1 each. The organization spends a thousand dollars each year at Christmas time and is now entering upon its sixteenth annual campaign for funds.

Head of Import Company Passes After Operation
Andrew G. Brodin, aged 50 years, of 1424 Twelfth avenue, one of the pioneer manufacturers and importing milliners of the West, died Wednesday night at the California Hospital, after undergoing an operation for stomach trouble.

His funeral will be held from the Swedish Tabernacle, Ninth and Lincoln streets, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Peter B. Wellender officiating. Special song service will be held, the interment to take place at Roseade Cemetery.

Mr. Brodin was formerly a resident of St. Joseph, Mo. He moved to Los Angeles fifteen years ago, shortly thereafter being instrumental in the removal of a prominent wholesale millinery house conducted by members of his family from St. Joseph to this city.

He leaves two sons, Fred H. and Arvid Brodin, and three daughters, Miss Thelma Brodin, Mrs. C. Orsue, and Mrs. Adolph Larson, Jr., all residents of Los Angeles.

City Council to Let Sport Take Off His Muzzle
On motion of Councilman Sparks the City Council yesterday ordered the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance repealing the regulation requiring that dogs in Los Angeles be muzzled. Councilman Langdon seconded the motion on the ground that the warmer weather being over and the danger from rabies consequent on the ordinance was no longer a need for the ordinance.

Councilman Sparks has always opposed the muzzle dog ordinance, which has been in existence since 1912 and which was recently amended so the large wire muzzle could be used.

Heart Disease Causes Lawyer to Drop Dead
R. F. Hutchins, aged 53 years, a lawyer of 431 Fifth street, dropped dead in his office in the International Bank Building at Temple and Spring street yesterday afternoon. It was stated at the Receiving Hospital.

Believed that Mr. Hutchins was still living, Stanley Viscel of 407 International Bank Building assisted the police in taking the elderly lawyer to the hospital. The effort was futile, however, as police surgeons stated Mr. Hutchins was still living at once from heart disease.

CHILDREN'S ENGLISH

Students of English, seekers for the best words and phrases to express subtle meanings, could do no worse than to study the language of the children around them, especially of children from 4 to 8 years old. At these ages children are avid for new words and, lacking as many as they need, are prone to coin their own.

Thus little Harriet, wearing of her pajamas and anxious to have lightning like her mother's, imperiously demanded a "hang nightie" which, we must admit, expresses the distinction very well.

Patience, at the breakfast table, asked for a "well-browned" piece of hominy. Betty, with the same preference, demanded a "rusty" piece. To George, 4, his mother's "perogues pudding" is "stick-up pudding." Jane, having ridden much in her father's automobile, longingly looking at railroad trains, demanded a "smoke car" for a change.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Put 'Em Into Classes

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I might as well own up in the beginning. I am a crabbed old bachelor, and, judging from the tenor of the letters I have recently read in The Times concerning marriage and the American women, I intend to stay so.

It seems to me from what I have read in The Times, the American women can be divided into two great classes—the Annie Miller type and the wives of men similar to Mr. Phelps. The Annie Miller type neglect their homes to attend to their civic duties and the others neglect their civic duties to attend to the home and if I must cast my lot among American women and enter the marriage state, I know I would much prefer selecting a mate like Annie Miller, and for this reason, once in a while I would have my evening gown and spend in my own sweet will, while if I was lucky enough to get one of the other kind I would be every evening devoted to staying home in what Mr. Phelps sarcastically called the home club, a club I wouldn't have the heart to sentence my bitterest enemy to.

I think the Frenchman was right when he said, "I have lost woman and 10 sous, a great pity—the money."

Now I divide women into three great classes: First, the hot and passionate kind, they are detestable, and secondly, the cold and calculating, they are odious; thirdly, those who are a combination of the bad qualities of the first two.

Beyond the Limit

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The other day in the small claims court in this city a dentist was given a judgment for $111 for a job of dental work. This is just an echo of what has been happening lately in many cases, although most of the victims have stood still and been robbed rather than go to court and have the pleasure of paying court costs besides.

It has become common practice for dentists to charge anything they think they can get, and not infrequently collect bills like the above. It is a great injustice, but what can you do. A few years ago $100 was a lot of money to spend for fillings, but the fashion has changed, and it is quite the proper thing now to go to the high-price man. If the people would stop to think a moment, they would see that it would be impossible to put a thousand dollars in one's mouth if all the teeth were made of gold. In fact, I should think that a person's life would be made miserable with that much money in one's mouth. If I had it I would be afraid to eat a bowl of soup.

In closing I might remark that a professional man has a small idea of the greatness of his profession when he allows his desire for money to run away with everything else and sends the common fellow to the quick to be butchered just because he wants more than his professional services are worth.

MARSHAL POURS OUT FORTUNE IN LIQUORS

A large quantity of liquor of various grades, and a number of stills that had been confiscated by the prohibition enforcement agents the last two months were destroyed by U. S. Marshall Stittell and his aides yesterday. The interests were stored in the attic of the Federal Building and the government bonded warehouse. At the present high cost of living, as it relates to the bootleg game, the value of the destroyed liquor was about $34,000.

Takes Exceptions

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I rise to take exceptions to some of the testimony just introduced in behalf of Clara Phillips. In attempting to establish the fact that her father was of unsound mind, it was testimony that he always worked for small wages. If that is the case, most of the newspaper men I know are crazy, and I myself have been caught by a narrow margin, unable to get out of the writing game a few years ago.

AN OBJECT LESSON

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wonder if the originators of direct legislation ever had the least idea where their pet hobby was leading them. I was opposed to the proposition from the beginning, but never suspected that it would go so far as this.

This morning I received a bound volume and a sample ballot. The book contained arguments pro and con on an endless number of propositions to be submitted to the voters next Tuesday, and the ballot showed how these questions would be presented for the voters' decision.

A man schooled in public questions could not possibly study the literature sent to me and arrive at a fair conclusion on one-third of the propositions between now and Tuesday if he has all of his time to the task. Most of those who will go to the polls Tuesday could not arrive at an intelligent conclusion if they studied the book until doomsday. There is so much that it is nothing short of a tragic joke to the voter who is expected to render a decision on a list of questions that could be decided by experts only.

THE OLD STORY

PARADISE, Nov. 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I thought it might interest you to know that the statement that a pearl is found in an edible oyster is an absolute myth. It cannot be done, no more than you can get duck eggs out of the chicken yard. It isn't that kind of an animal. Every year as the oyster season approaches we have stories of this kind, and I quote below paragraphs from the Jewellers' Circular in which the editor comments upon this legend:

"If this be so, the fact that a real valuable pearl was found in an edible clam, is a matter of much more importance to the jewelry trade and even to science than is the subject as to who is entitled to the 'pearl'."

"As a matter of fact, although the newspapers continue from time to time to tell of her discoveries and claim, the Jewellers' Circular has been making inquiries, extending over thirty years, to discover one case in which a 'pearl' had been found in an edible clam. The result was so found. Many of these so-called 'pearls' have been submitted to us by people in private life and by jewelers into whose possession they have come, but not one of them has been worth a cent as a 'pearl,' their only value being as a curiosity."

"As Dr. Kunt points out in his great work on the 'Pearl,' shelly concretions have been found in edible oysters of America, but in no case have they been objects of personal interest or of local curiosity, rather than of artistic or commercial value, as they are looking in lustre or iridescence. Most of them are dull or opal white, some are purple and a few are white on one side and purple on the other."

POLITICAL CAMPAIGNS ENRICH POSTOFFICE

Postmaster O'Brien would not worry if political campaigns were in constant progress in Los Angeles, as the activities of the candidates and the committees add largely to the postal receipts of the local office. The postage bill for sending the sample ballots and arguments through the local mails was more than $20,000. The high spot of receipts was reached a few days ago, when they amounted to a sum in excess of $35,000. They have averaged over $22,000 a day for a number of days.

The fall advertising campaigns of a number of up-to-date merchants have also contributed a considerable sum to the receipts, all indicating that everybody is busy when the postoffice figures mount.

COLLECTION OF MILK BOTTLES SPEEDED UP

Following complaints from citizens that hundreds of empty, used milk bottles are permitted to accumulate on the streets and in the parkways about the city, the City Council yesterday took steps to require the milk companies to collect these bottles, the Councilmen holding that the waste of bottles tends to increase the milk delivery cost here and that the bottles are broken, litter the streets and cut the tires of automobiles.

WIDER AVENUE PROTESTED

Widening of Western avenue between Pico and Washington streets has been indefinitely delayed as the result of the filing with the City Council of a protest from a majority of the property owners in the assessment district adjacent to the improvement. The Council upon receipt of a notice of the majority protest, ordered the filing of orders for the starting of the widening proceedings.

PONCE DE LEON OUTDONE IN NEW GLAND DISCOVERY

"I am just as young as I used to be, and it's all due to gland pills. Here I am 73 and feel just as spry and full of vim and pep as if I were only 30 or 40." This testimony to the virtue of gland treatment was voiced recently by Robert George Laws, prominent retired London broker. Mr. Laws, whose health has been poor for several years, claims that a glandular tonic put up in capsule form has restored him to the health and vigor of his earlier days.

Such a treatment is now obtainable in Glandogen, the famous gland tonic. Glandogen is of unusual value in those ailments arising from common disorders of the ductless glands obtainable at the Henderson-Chambers Drug Co. 2nd and Main; Chambers Drug Store, 1st and Broadway; and Blaney-Chambers Drug Stores, 5th and Los Angeles and 9th and Spring.

Some day an irresponsible motorist or a reckless truck driver may collide with you. This can happen, as you know, no matter how carefully your car is being handled. You or some member of your family may be injured. Much depends upon the car you are in. If it is a Pierce-Arrow, there is the least likelihood of serious accident. The sheer strength of frame, body and wheels protect you; the car's low center of gravity minimizes the danger of an overturn.

Pierce-Arrow cars offer many other factors of safety such as—over-running gears; foot-control of head-lights; clear vision both front and rear—no "blind spots"; instantaneous brake control, etc. We shall be glad to demonstrate to you the safety features of Pierce-Arrow Motor Cars.

SCHOOL AWAITS
FASCISTI HELPLiberal Movement Expected

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

TOWSON, Md., Nov. 2.—(Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(Press)

Methodists are not including

$250,000 additional members of that religious denomination affiliated with the "black-shirted"

Fascists with the interest. That is due to the previous opposition in Rome to the educational plans of the Methodists in the Eternal

City, where a school of Monte Maria,

the "Eighth Hill," has been purchased and work begun upon the projected buildings of the international Collegio, which includes a high school, a technical institute, a dormitory and auditorium and administration hall.

American money is behind the collegio enterprise. The headquarters of the Methodist Episcopal

Board of Foreign Missions is at 150

Fifth avenue, where it was stated today the Fascist movement, being of a liberal character, may be counted upon to put no obstacles

in the path of the international

Collegio. In addition, the Methodists have churches established in sixty centers of the Italian peninsula.

"One of the strongest proofs of the inherent strength of modern

Italy is the fact that she has not succumbed to radical revolution,"

said Dr. Bertrand M. Tippet, president of the college, who is in the United States. "No other nation, in proportion to its size and wealth,

suffered from the war more terribly than Italy.

"Italy received from the victory

little or no material compensation.

When Austria collapsed there was nothing left for Italy to hand over.

Italy has no mineral resources, no raw materials for her industrial development. She has come by purchase outside the country, with exchange 25 lire to the dollar, when it used to be at par 5 lire.

Moreover, her 500,000 annual debt population has been destroyed by the war. Formerly a large percentage of this number found open doors here, and from them a steady stream of money and goods flowed back into the homeland. The obvious end of all this was the creation of a wide field for radicalism. But Italy has not yielded to it. In the history of nations there has been no more impressive demonstration of the real greatness of a people.

At present the economic foreigners are seriously against her, but the spirit of her race is all in her favor.

"For some years before the war

the Methodist Episcopal church had been considering a very important enlargement of its school plant in Rome in order to accommodate the increasing numbers of Italian young men desiring to enroll in our educational institutions. In 1914 we bought suitable location on Monte Maria.

During the last quarter of a century 1200 Italian boys have passed through our college. Five grandsons of the great Garibaldi have been in the college at one time or another.

Many of our alumni have entered the teaching profession,

others are to be found in government positions. Guglielmo An-giolillo, a highly respected judge in Northern Italy, started in our college. Felice Casati, a noted lawyer of Italy, and his brother,

Nestore, were our students."

Forget-Me-Nots to Aid Disabled Veterans

There is Still Work to Do

HANDS that once carried a rifle in the service of their country are making forget-me-nots which will be offered for sale on Forget-Me-Not Day, Saturday.

The two members of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War in the picture are Walter Ryan, who "got his" at Chateau Thierry, and Arthur (Hammer) Grunert, who "got his" in the Serre fighting around St. Mihiel. The brothers of Florence Fisher and Beatrice McDonald, the young ladies in the picture, lost their lives in France.

The flowers made by the disabled veterans will be sold throughout the country on Forget-Me-Not Day under the auspices of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

ANNEXATION TO
BE ON BALLOTBy a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, Nov. 2.—An annexation election which will add 15,000 to the population of Long Beach and make the city the fourth in size in the State if the vote is favorable, is assured as the result of a check of petitioners who seek the election, City Clerk H. C. Waugh announced today.

The addition of new voters in the district sought to be annexed had left the number of signatures too small to meet legal requirements, an earlier survey indicated. Nearly 4000 voters in thickly settled territory bounded on three sides by present city limits will decide whether the 15,000 residents are to be included in the city.

From the shadow of Mt. Lebanon to the city of Los Angeles comes Rahme Haider, Syrian princess, who on Sunday night at the First Presbyterian Church will tell of the manners and customs of her native land.

This is the first time that Princess Haider, who traces her lineage back to biblical records, has appeared here. She was educated at American colleges in Beirut and Sidon, and came to this country to complete her schooling. She is now engaged in an educational lecture tour.

Assisting her is Miss Lucille Bussone, musician who interprets the airs of Syria.

GERMAN STEEL MEN
BOOST PRICE AGAIN

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The German steel league, which raised prices 21 percent a week ago, has announced a new rise of 25 to 40 percent for the November schedule, based on an input price of 96.70 marks, or at yesterday's exchange, $21.25 a ton. The increase is not attributable to the depreciation of the mark, which virtually is unchanged compared with a week ago.

Steel men are further discounting an anticipated further fall in exchange and increase in wages and costs of production. German steel, figured on a gold basis, is now decidedly more expensive than it was before the war.

HUSBAND "CHILLING"
AT PARTY, WIFE SAYS

Judge Summerville has taken under advisement the divorce case of Blanche Doty against Jesse S. Doty.

The evidence showed yesterday that Doty failed to appreciate his wife's efforts to please him. She gave a birthday party in his honor, and his air of indifference was chilling, it was averred. He told her he did not care for parties and that she need not give him a party. He nagged her, was suspicious and generally unsociable, according to the evidence.

COUNCILMEN RETURN TO
CITY DUTIESMembers All Present at Meeting for First Time in Many Months

Nine members of the City Council answered the roll call yesterday, it being the first time in many months that the complete membership has been present. Councilman Mushet has been on a leave of absence due to illness, each of the Councilmen took a two-weeks' vacation and President Crawlwell was in Washington for several months appearing before Congress in connection with the Boulder Dam project, so that most of the time there were only six or seven members of the Council present.

There has been some confusion among the voters, many of whom have asked for information from the Councilmen concerning the first three city propositions on the ballot at next Tuesday's election, each of which—1A, 2A and 3A—provides for changing the method of electing members of the City Council from the present system of choosing nine members at large to the selection of Councilmen by districts. Some voters believed that it was necessary to vote for one of the three propositions. This is not the case, the Councilmen told inquirers, for if 1A, 2A and 3A fail of adoption, the present system of choosing nine Councilmen at large will remain in effect.

HOPE TO BUILD
CHARITY FUND
UPON OIL UNITS

Plans for a perpetual charity fund for Los Angeles were discussed in an informal meeting at the Alexandria Hotel yesterday afternoon. The project is being formulated under the name of the Petroleum Good Will Foundation, and its sponsors, E. A. Wilson and W. C. Baskett, are convinced that if the plan is carried out, Los Angeles will be possessed of a perpetual fund sufficiently large to take care of all of the city's deserving charities.

The plan is to drill wells on thoroughly proven oil land, which several of the large oil companies have volunteered to donate to the organization. The wells are to be paid for with money derived from the sale of units which will be placed with all of the established charitable organizations of the city.

Mr. Cunningham will be in charge of the sale of the units, which will be placed with all of the established charitable organizations of the city. The organization also will have person buying to his favorite charitable organizations of the city.

All funds accumulating from the sale of the units are to be used exclusively for charities.

LAPSE OF MEMORY
PLEA DOESN'T WORKDEFENDANT IN BURGLARY
CASE SAYS HE USED
POWERFUL DRUG

Although John F. Beckett, accused of burglary of the house of Charles Rosenberg, 211 South Grand avenue, attempted to prove yesterday in Justice Baird's court that he had a lapse of memory during the time of the asserted offense, he was held to answer.

Beckett took the stand in his own behalf, saying that while on a boat from Seattle to Los Angeles he had a "wild party," and arrived in Los Angeles with a "morning-after" headache. He said a friend advised him to take some powerful drug, which he did, and began to forget things at once.

Witnesses testified that Beckett stole two suits of clothes from Mr. Rosenberg, that he took them to a clothes dealer, sold them and handed the proceeds to the dealer. He told the dealer to call the next day and get four more suits. The dealer did and found another man who had been in his place had been entered. The defendant stated he knew nothing of the theft, but he was held to answer.

BEATING WINS DECREE

Woman Asserts Husband and Mother Assaulted Her

According to Charlotte Randall Geddes, it is adding insult to injury if her husband's mother, imitating the son, takes a hand in beating her.

Mrs. Geddes, seeking a divorce from James Rosier Geddes, declared in Judge Summerville's court yesterday that her husband knocked her down, kicked her on the shins, pinched her arms, twisted her arm, and took money from her purse.

Then her mother-in-law, she declared, hit her and pulled her hair. She said she was watched. The court granted Mrs. Geddes a decree.
